Centralia Approves Street Vacation Near Centralia College By The Chronicle

The Centralia City Council on Tuesday approved three ordinances on second readings to close some alleys and part of two streets around Centralia College.

A portion of Walnut Street, Ash Street, two alleys located in the KNOLL area and another alley southwest of the intersection of Centralia College Boulevard and Iron Street were selected.

All the areas are either on or adjacent to the college or property it owns. College officials said these areas will become additional parking for students and will improve traffic flow in surrounding neighborhoods. The vacations are part of the college's 2010 master plan.

Previous public comments and feedback from neighbors were favorable of the changes. The city will maintain utility easements on the roadways.

All three ordinances were passed unanimously on both readings.
